Chapter 1

Introduction

On May 18, 2000 President Clinton signed into law the historic Trade and Development Act of 2000, containing the African Growth and Opportunity Act (AGOA). (The text of the Act is available at the AGOA website, www.agoa.gov and at the USTR website www.ustr.gov). The Act provides unprecedented opportunities and aims to:

- Promote increased trade and investment between the United States and sub-Saharan African countries by providing eligible African countries with unprecedented liberal access to the U.S. market. Essentially all products of these eligible countries will have quota free/duty free access to the almost 10 trillion dollar United States market.
- Promote economic development and reform in sub-Saharan Africa, moving across a wide range of industries, granting tangible benefits to entrepreneurs, farmers, and families.
- Promote increased access and opportunities for U.S. investors and businesses in sub-Saharan Africa.

The African Growth and Opportunity Act offers a wide variety of benefits to businesses, workers, manufacturers, and farmers in eligible countries. It is important to remember that the Act can only offer opportunities! African countries are encouraged to seize the opportunities provided in the Act and to create enabling environments to strengthen prospects for expanded trade and investment.

Although the Act provides a variety of benefits, this guide focuses on the Act's trade preference benefits. The Guide is divided into 10 Chapters. Chapter 2 provides answers to frequently asked questions such as "how can I determine whether the products I manufacture and want to export could benefit from the Act?" Other chapters contain information on the specific trade benefits available and on the eligibility criteria that must be met for a country to receive these benefits. Chapter 8 provides a brief summary of other provisions of the Act and Chapter 10 provides a time line of key dates. Information on general U.S. agricultural market access is provided in Chapter 9. This guide is available electronically at Internet site www.agoa.gov.

Questions about the African Growth and Opportunity Act not covered in this guidebook may be directed to the Office of African Affairs at the Office of the United States Trade Representative, 600 17th St. NW, Washington, D.C. 20508, telephone number (202) 395-9514, fax number (202) 395-4505 or to U.S. Embassies or Consulates. Additional information on the Generalized System of Preferences (GSP) program is available at www.ustr.gov/reports/gsp/contents.html on the USTR web site, at www.agoa.gov, and from the GSP Information Center, Office of the U.S. Trade Representative, Room 518 Washington, D.C. 20508 or by calling (202) 395-6971.

Chapter 2

Summary of the African Growth and Opportunity Act

The African Growth and Opportunity Act/Trade and Development Act of 2000 authorizes a new U.S. trade and investment policy toward Africa. It promotes increased trade and economic cooperation between the United States and eligible sub-Saharan African countries. This legislation represents a solid, meaningful and significant opportunity, which could result in billions of dollars in new trade and investment flows between the U.S. and Africa.

Key Elements of the Act and Benefits for Africa:

General Trade Benefits

The Act:

- Institutionalizes a process for strengthening U.S. relations with African countries and provides incentives for African countries to achieve political and economic reform and growth.
- Offers beneficiary sub-Saharan African countries duty-free and quota-free U.S. market access for essentially all products through the Generalized System of Preferences (GSP) program.
- Provides additional security for investors and traders in African countries by ensuring GSP benefits for eight years.
- Eliminates the GSP competitive need limitation for African countries.
- Establishes a U.S.-sub-Saharan Africa Trade and Economic Cooperation Forum to facilitate regular trade and investment policy discussions.
- Promotes the use of technical assistance to strengthen economic reforms and development, including assistance to strengthen relationships between U.S. firms and firms in sub-Saharan Africa.

Apparel and Textile Preferences:

The Act:

- Lifts all existing quotas on textiles and apparel products from sub-Saharan Africa (within 30-days of a U.S. Government determination that Kenya and Mauritius have adopted effective visa systems).
- Extends duty/quota free U.S. market access for sub-Saharan African apparel made from yarns and fabrics not available in the United States.

- Extends duty/quota free treatment for apparel made in Africa from U.S. yarn and fabric and for knit-to-shape sweaters made in Africa from cashmere and some merino wools as well as apparel produced in Africa from silk, velvet, linen, and other fabrics not produced in commercial quantities in the United States.
- Extends duty free and quota free U.S. market access for apparel made in Africa with African/regional fabric and yarn. Such imports, however, are subject to a cap (limit) ranging from 1.5 to 3.5% of the multibillion dollar U.S. apparel import market over an 8 year period. African apparel imports made with African fabric/yarns currently total about $250 million. Normal MFN duties would be levied on apparel (regional fabric) imports over the cap.
- Provides an average 17.5% duty advantage on apparel imports in the U.S. market and promotes economic development and diversification in Africa's poorest countries through a special provision in the cap which allows African countries with an annual GNP of under $1,500 ("lesser developed beneficiary countries") to use third country fabric inputs for four years. This special investment incentive for the poorest African countries is aimed at providing a market stimulus to economic development for areas with little existing industry.

Chapter 3

Frequently-Asked Questions

The following questions and answers are provided to briefly clarify some of the provisions of AGOA. More detailed descriptions of the law's provisions are provided in subsequent chapters of this guide.

What is an "eligible sub-Saharan African (SSA) country"?

The eligibility requirements contained in the African Growth and Opportunity Act (AGOA) were developed in consultation with African countries. The criteria reflect an understanding that the trade benefits and market access accorded in the Act will only generate sustainable economic growth and development if countries have appropriate domestic policies. The criteria constitute "best practice" policies that will ultimately attract trade and investment and foster widely-shared prosperity. They include: establishment of market-based economies; development of political pluralism and the rule of law; elimination of barriers to U.S. trade and investment; protection of intellectual property; efforts to combat corruption; policies to reduce poverty and increase availability of health care and educational opportunities; protection of human rights and worker rights, and elimination of certain practices of child labor. AGOA states that eligible sub-Saharan African countries must implement their obligations to combat the worst forms of child labor. The phrases "eligible sub-Saharan African country" and "beneficiary sub-Saharan African country" are used in this Guide interchangeably.

The first list of eligible countries was published in the Federal Register on October 4, 2000 and is provided at Annex 1. A second list of additional countries may be published at the beginning of 2001.

What products are eligible for duty-free treatment?

Essentially all products will be eligible, as long as they meet AGOA's rule of origin requirements and are imported directly from a beneficiary sub-Saharan African country. Exceptions include fabrics and yarns not imported as part of a finished apparel product, and products determined by the U.S. Government to be import sensitive. A listing of products currently eligible for GSP is provided at Annex 3. A listing of additional products that are potentially eligible for duty-free treatment under AGOA is provided at Annex 2. A final list of additional products that will be eligible for duty-free treatment under AGOA will be published in the Federal Register by the end of 2000 and will be available at the Internet web site www.agoa.gov. The African Growth and Opportunity Act also permits duty-free entry for certain apparel products. Further details on apparel benefits are provided in Chapter 5.

How do I tell if the products I want to export are eligible for duty-free access to the U.S. market?

There are three basic means by which a product may have duty-free access to the U.S. market. For many products, the U.S. has already set the tariff at zero for all countries' exports of that product. In addition, many products are already eligible for duty-free treatment under the U.S. Generalized System of Preferences (GSP) Program. Under the African Growth and Opportunity Act, many more products will be eligible for duty-free access to the U.S., providing duty-free and quota-free U.S. market access for essentially all products from eligible sub-Saharan African countries.

The first step in determining the United States' tariff rate for a product is to determine what the U.S. Harmonized Tariff Schedule (HTSUS) number is for the product(s). An electronic version of the HTSUS is available on the Internet at <http://www.usitc.gov/taffairs.htm>. An alphabetized index and listing of articles, is located at the back of the HTSUS.

Once the product HTSUS number is known, you may determine the U.S. tariff rate by consulting the HTSUS (or the International Trade Commission's U.S. Tariff and Import Database (under the Links button of the www.agoa.gov Internet site). Alternatively, you may use this Guide to determine if your product is eligible for duty-free treatment under GSP (see Annex 3 which lists all GSP eligible products (for all GSP countries) and Annex 2 which includes within the list those products that are eligible for GSP only for countries that are GSP "least developed beneficiary countries") or is potentially eligible for duty-free treatment under the African Growth and Opportunity Act (see Annex 2 with a list of products that are potentially eligible for duty-free treatment under AGOA). A determination on what products will be eligible for duty-free treatment under AGOA is expected by the end of 2000. It is important to note that if a product is not listed as eligible for duty-free treatment under GSP or under AGOA it may be because the tariff is already zero for all countries.

In order to receive duty-free market access for a product under the GSP program or under AGOA, the product must be produced or manufactured in a GSP or AGOA beneficiary country and must meet the GSP or AGOA rules of origin requirements. A list of GSP beneficiary countries is provided at Annex 1. A list of designated sub-Saharan African beneficiary countries is provided in Annex 1.

What are the main benefits available to exporters from eligible sub-Saharan African countries?

First, as detailed above, zero duties apply to U.S. imports of eligible products from eligible countries in sub-Saharan Africa. "Eligible products" are those currently receiving duty-free treatment under the U.S. GSP program, plus an expanded list of products (excluding textiles and apparel) not otherwise eligible for duty-free treatment under GSP. A detailed list of these products is found in Annex 3 of this Guide.

Second, a guarantee of GSP benefits for eligible sub-Saharan African countries through September 30, 2008 (the GSP program is scheduled to expire for non-sub-Saharan African countries on September 30, 2001 and must be renewed by Congress if duty-free treatment is to resume). In addition, the GSP program's "competitive needs" limitation which prohibits the importation of GSP-eligible products above a certain level is waived for eligible sub-Saharan countries under the AGOA.

Third, duty-free treatment for imports of sub-Saharan African apparel, some of which may be made with sub-Saharan African textiles and yarn. This benefit will give exporters in eligible Sub-Saharan Africa countries a decided advantage in exporting apparel to the United States. While sub-Saharan African apparel that meets AGOA's criteria will continue to be duty-free through September 30, 2008, U.S. imports of apparel from all other suppliers with which the United States does not have free trade agreements will continue to be assessed regular tariff duties, which average 17.5% of the value of the apparel product. However, apparel products made with sub-Saharan African fabrics or yarns or third-country fabrics or yarns may lose duty-free benefits if the U.S. Secretary of Commerce determines that imports into the United States of those products are "surging" -- in other words, being imported in such increased quantities as to cause the U.S. industry producing the same or a similar product serious damage or threat thereof.

Fourth, establishment of an U.S.-sub-Saharan Africa Trade and Economic Cooperation Forum which institutionalizes a Presidential and Cabinet-level dialogue between the U.S. and the countries of sub-Saharan Africa.

Fifth, expanded support from the Overseas Private Investment Corporation and the U.S. Export-Import Bank that will increase the interest of American exporters and investors in undertaking projects in sub-Saharan Africa.

Can a country lose AGOA benefits?

Yes. The President must conduct an annual review of each sub-Saharan African country's progress towards meeting the AGOA eligibility criteria. The President must terminate the designation of any beneficiary sub-Saharan African country if he determines that the country is not making continual progress towards meeting the eligibility criteria.

What specific requirements must be met to import merchandise under AGOA?

The imported merchandise must be eligible for AGOA benefits; produced in a designated beneficiary sub-Saharan Africa country; meet the value-added requirements for non-textile/apparel products, and the various specific requirements for different apparel products; be imported directly into the United States from a beneficiary sub-Saharan Africa country; be accompanied by import documentation that claims AGOA benefits on the appropriate shipping documents.

What are the rule of origin requirements for qualifying AGOA apparel products?

The rules vary with the product. The U.S. Customs Service has issued interim Customs Regulations on the African Growth and Opportunity Act. These interim regulations are available at www.agoa.gov. General information on apparel rules of origin is included at Annex 4. In general, apparel qualifying for duty-free benefits may be made with U.S. fabric in turn made with U.S. yarn, sub-Saharan African fabric in turn made with sub-Saharan African yarn (subject to quantitative limit) or, in the case of least developed sub-Saharan Africa countries, third-country fabric (subject to quantitative limits). Certain third country fabrics and yarns may also be used by sub-Saharan African apparel producers provided such fabrics are on a short supply list - maintained by the Department of Commerce (contained in Annex 5 to this Guide). Third-country yarn and fiber may also be used to produce cashmere or certain wool knit-to-shape sweaters.

What are the rule of origin requirements for other products?

The item must be the growth, product, or manufacture of a beneficiary developing country and the sum of (a) the cost or value of materials produced in a one or more beneficiary countries plus (b) the direct cost of processing performed in those countries may not be less than 35 percent of the appraised value of the product when it enters the United States. Up to 15 percentage points of that 35 percent may be derived from U.S. parts or materials used to produce the product in a beneficiary sub-Saharan Africa country or countries for new products designated for GSP benefits for AGOA beneficiaries. Their products also enjoy cumulation benefits. Questions regarding rule of origin requirements for specific products and/or classification of products may be directed to the U.S. Customs Service by writing to: Director, National Commodity Specialist Division, U.S. Customs Service, 6 World Trade Center, New York, New York 10048.

What is meant by the requirement that the article be "imported directly"?

The article must be shipped directly from the beneficiary country to the United States without passing through the territory of any other country. Or, if shipped through the territory of any other country, the merchandise must not have entered the commerce of that country while in route to the United States. In all cases, the invoices, bills of lading and other documents connected with the shipment must show that the United States is the final destination of the imported article. (See 19 CFR 10.175(d) for the U.S. Customs Service definition of "imported directly.")

How can the correct HTSUS classification of a product be determined?

Questions about a specific product HTSUS number should be referred to the U.S. Customs Service by writing to: Director, National Commodity Specialist Division, U.S. Customs Service, 6 World Trade Center, New York, New York 10048. General information from U.S. Customs including information on classification and rules of origin can be found at www.customs.gov

Who makes the determinations regarding AGOA product and country eligibility?

The apparel and textile benefits provided under AGOA are generally specified in the African Growth and Opportunity Act. The GSP Subcommittee of the Trade Policy Staff Committee, chaired by the Office of the United States Trade Representative, reviews non-apparel/textile product coverage. All Executive Branch Agencies directly involved in trade participate in the inter-agency review of GSP eligibility modifications including expansion of GSP product coverage for eligible sub-Saharan African countries through AGOA. The U.S. Customs Service determines the classification of products and whether or not they meet the requirements specified in the Act.

Country eligibility decisions are made through an inter-agency process involving all relevant Executive Branch Agencies and chaired by the Office of the United States Trade Representative. Recommendations on product coverage and country eligibility are provided to the President whose final decisions are printed in the Federal Register.

How can an exporter in an AGOA beneficiary country know the value at which the U.S. Customs authorities will appraise an article?

In most cases, U.S. Customs will appraise the merchandise at the transaction value, that is, the price actually paid or payable for the merchandise when sold for export to the United States. This value would include the following elements:

1. The packing costs incurred by the buyer
2. The selling commission incurred by the buyer
3. The value of any assistance provided to the producer free of charge by the buyer

4. The royalty or license fee that the buyer is required to pay as a condition of the sale
5. The proceeds accruing to the seller of any subsequent resale, disposal, or use of the imported merchandise

In general, shipping and other costs related to transporting the GSP articles from the port of export to the United States are included neither in the value of the article nor in the value-added calculation.

What costs may be included in the direct costs of processing?

The direct costs of processing include all costs, whether directly incurred in, or those that can be reasonably allocated to the growth, production, manufacture, or assembly of the merchandise in question. These include the following:

- Actual labor costs involved in producing the goods, fringe benefits, and on-the-job training costs
- Engineering, supervisory, quality control, and similar personnel costs
- Dies, molds, and tooling costs, as well as depreciation on machinery and equipment
- Research, development, design, blueprints and engineering, and inspection and testing costs

What costs may not be included in the direct costs of processing?

The costs that may not be included in the direct costs of processing are those that are not directly attributable to the merchandise being considered or are not "costs" of manufacturing. These costs include profit and general expenses and business overhead such as administrative salaries, casualty and liability insurance, advertising, and sales representative's salaries, commissions, or expenses.

What is an "effective visa system," related to apparel/textile shipments?

An effective visa system, applicable to the textile and apparel products that claim benefits under AGOA, is a government-industry process that demonstrates that the goods for which benefits are claimed were in fact produced in a sub-Saharan Africa country or countries according to the rules of origin required to claim those benefits. The U.S. Government has provided countries with guidance on what the United States believes is required by an effective visa system. This includes the requirement that each shipment be covered by an original visa stamped on an original invoice. The visa must contain certain information such as the date of the visa, the quantity of goods being shipped, the preference grouping the goods qualify under, and a country code. In addition, governments must agree to cooperate with the U.S. Customs Service to prevent unlawful transshipment and use of counterfeit documentation, must agree to permit verification visits to factories, producers, exporters, and/or manufacturers, and must require factories, producers, exporters, and manufacturers to retain proper records relating to the production of goods for a period of five years.

What are the apparel/textile preference groupings?

The following are general descriptions of the preference groups. Articles under preference group "T" must be determined through bilateral consultations between the United States and sub-Saharan African countries.

- A: Apparel assembled from U.S.-formed and cut fabric from U.S. yarn. [19 CFR 10.213(a)(1)]
- B: Apparel assembled and further processed from U.S.-formed and cut fabric from U.S. yarn. [19 CFR 10.213(a)(2)]
- C: Apparel cut and assembled from U.S. fabric from U.S. yarn and thread. [19 CFR 10.213(a)(3)]
- D: Apparel assembled from regional fabric from yarn originating in the U.S. or one or more beneficiary countries. [19 CFR 10.213(a)(4)]
- E: Apparel assembled in one or more lesser developed beneficiary countries. [19 CFR 10.213(a)(5)].
- F: Sweaters knit to shape in chief weight of cashmere. [19 CFR 10.213(a)(6)]
- G: Sweaters knit to shape with 50 percent or more by weight of fine wool. [19 CFR 10.213(a)(7)]
- H: Apparel cut and assembled in one or more beneficiary countries from fabrics or yarn not formed in the United States or a beneficiary country (as identified in NAFTA) or designated as not available in commercial quantities in the United States. [19 CFR 10.213(a)(8) or (a)(9)]
- I: Handloomed, handmade or folklore articles.[19 CFR 10.213(a)(10)]

Do the apparel products that are eligible for duty-free and quota-free benefits under the AGOA have to satisfy the 35% value-added requirement of the GSP program?

No. Apparel products eligible for benefits under the AGOA must meet the preference grouping requirements set forth in the AGOA apparel provisions. These requirements do not include the 35% value-added requirement. The 35% value-content requirement applies to those products currently eligible for GSP treatment (which do not include most textile and apparel products), as well as additional products (again excluding textiles and apparel) that may be designated as eligible for duty-free treatment under the expansion of the GSP program for AGOA beneficiary countries.

Which countries are considered to be "lesser developed beneficiary" countries under the AGOA?

The majority of countries in sub-Saharan Africa would be considered lesser developed countries under the AGOA. The criterion requires that a country's per capita GNP as measured by the World Bank in 1998 be under $1,500. Annex 1 includes a list of lesser-developed AGOA beneficiary countries.

How will apparel exports from sub-Saharan Africa be counted against the cap on imports of apparel made with regional or third-country fabric?

On a "first-come, first-served" basis. This means that eligible imports from any eligible country will be counted against the cap as they are imported. Once the cap is filled, products may still be imported; however, the prevailing normal trade relations tariff rate will be assessed. For the first year, two-thirds of the cap was made available on October 2, 2000. The remaining one-third of the cap, plus any quantity remaining unfilled from the earlier two-thirds of the cap, will be made available on January 1, 2001. The yearly cap period begins on October 1 of each year and runs through September 30 of the next year.

What is "transshipment"?

AGOA describes transshipment as a claim for a textile or apparel article for duty-free benefits that is false with respect to country of origin, manufacture, processing or assembly of the article or any of its parts.

If transshipment is found, the United States will deny all benefits for future textile or apparel shipments from the transshipping sub-Saharan African exporter for five years.

For apparel/textiles, what types of records must be kept and by whom?

Exporters, producers, or manufacturers are required to keep proper records relating to the production of goods, including materials used in production, information relating to the place of production, the number and identification of the types of machinery used in production, and the number of workers employed in production. These records should be retained for five years. If the U.S. Customs Service visits the facility of a producer or exporter in a beneficiary country, it may also expect to see inventory records, documentation for payments for raw material purchases, export/shipping records, contracts with subcontractors, payroll records, cutting records, assembly records, letters of credit and out-processing records.

Chapter 4

Trade Benefits (Non-Apparel/Textile)

AGOA builds on existing U.S. programs designed to increase trade and investment between the United States and developing countries. AGOA expands benefits available under the Generalized System of Preferences (GSP) program. GSP offers duty-free treatment to imports of selected products from specific beneficiary countries. Duty-free treatment for a broader range of products is provided for imports from least developed beneficiary developing countries. The GSP program must be renewed by Congress each time it expires; it is currently scheduled to expire September 30, 2001. Detailed information about the program, including the products and countries eligible for duty-free benefits, can be found on the Internet at: <http://www.ustr.gov/reports/gsp/index.html>, or under the Links button on the www.agoa.gov Internet site.

Duty-Free Treatment for Products

U.S. imports from most sub-Saharan Africa countries are already eligible to receive duty-free access for some 4,650 products under the U.S. GSP program. Another 1,783 products imported from least-developed sub-Saharan African countries are also eligible to receive duty-free treatment. A list of products currently eligible for GSP is contained in Annex 2. However, the GSP program excludes from this extensive list of products duty-free treatment for textiles, apparel, watches, footwear, handbags, luggage, flat goods, work gloves and leather wearing apparel, and certain electronic, steel and glass products as well as other products that are deemed import-sensitive. In addition, under GSP, benefits may be lost when imports from a beneficiary country reach prescribed thresholds. Finally, GSP benefits for all products imported from all beneficiary countries expire on September 30, 2001 unless renewed by Congress.

AGOA provides three important benefits to eligible sub-Saharan African exporters. First, it extends the duty-free treatment under the GSP program for eligible sub-Saharan African countries through September 30, 2008. Second, the AGOA eliminates most of the limitations of the GSP program for eligible sub-Saharan African countries. Third, AGOA expands the product coverage of the GSP program but only for products of sub-Saharan Africa.

AGOA permits the President to extend duty-free treatment to imports of essentially all products, except textiles and apparel, if they are the "growth, product or manufacture" of a beneficiary sub-Saharan Africa country, meet a value-added requirement, and the President determines that the products are not import-sensitive in the context of imports from beneficiary sub-Saharan Africa countries. Annex 3 provides a full list of the products under review. Textile and apparel benefits are treated separately from GSP under AGOA. The U.S. GSP Subcommittee is currently conducting a review of these products and it is expected that the President will announce the final list of products eligible for duty-free treatment under AGOA before the end of the year 2000. The list will be published in the U.S. Federal Register and will be made available on the Internet at www.agoa.gov.

This provision of AGOA gives sub-Saharan African suppliers a competitive edge over suppliers in other countries with which the United States does not have a free trade agreement. The tariff rates on many of these products can be quite high, and reducing them to zero for sub-Saharan Africa exporters in eligible sub-Saharan African countries will enable those suppliers to compete more effectively with suppliers elsewhere.

More Certainty for Duty-Free Benefits

Regular and expanded GSP duty-free benefits will remain in place for sub-Saharan African exporters through September 30, 2008, irrespective of whether or not the GSP program applicable to other developing countries is extended past September 30, 2001. This benefit provides more certainty for both sub-Saharan African exporters and their U.S. customers, each of whom will likely incorporate sub-Saharan African suppliers more securely into their international sourcing plans as a result of the assurance that duty-free treatment will not lapse for some time.

End of Competitive Need Limits for Sub-Saharan Africa

AGOA also exempts eligible sub-Saharan African countries from normal GSP program limitations on value and percentage of trade in a specific product, known as “competitive need limitations.” Normally, a GSP participant loses benefits for a certain product if imports of that product into the United States account for more than 50 percent of total U.S. imports of that product, or if imports reach a certain value ($90 million in 1999). AGOA amends the GSP statute to exempt sub-Saharan Africa beneficiary countries from these competitive need limitations. This benefit will also contribute to a more secure long-term sourcing relationship between sub-Saharan African exporters and U.S. customers.

GSP Rule of Origin for Imports from Sub-Saharan Africa

A product must meet the GSP program rules of origin to qualify for duty-free access to the U.S. under the GSP program. The GSP rules of origin require that a product be the "growth, product or manufacture" of a beneficiary sub-Saharan African country and that:

- The article must be imported directly from the beneficiary country into the United States; and
- The sum of the cost or value of materials produced in the beneficiary country plus the direct processing costs must equal at least 35 percent of the appraised value of the product at the time of entry into the United States.

Imported materials may be counted toward the 35 percent but only if the materials are “substantially transformed” into new and different constituent materials of which the eligible article is composed. If an imported article has been produced in part in several countries that are members of an association of countries contributing to the regional economic integration of its members, the articles will be accorded duty-free entry if the value of their collective production of the article accounts for at least 35 percent of the appraised value of the article. The level of value added is the same as would be required for a product imported from a single country. The U.S. Customs Service is charged with determining whether an article meets the GSP rule-of-origin requirements. Members of the West African Economic and Monetary Union (WAEMU), the Southern African Development Community (SADC), and the Tripartite Commission on East African Cooperation (EAC) are potentially eligible for this cumulation benefit. The President has delegated to the U.S. Trade

Representative the responsibility for determining which members of these organizations qualify for the cumulation benefit under the GSP program.

AGOA Rule of Origin for Imports from Sub-Saharan Africa

A product must meet the AGOA program rules of origin to qualify for duty-free access to the U.S. under AGOA. The AGOA rules of origin require that a product be the "growth, product or manufacture" of a beneficiary sub-Saharan Africa country and that:

- The article must be imported directly from the beneficiary country into the United States; and
- The sum of (a) the cost or value of materials produced in a one or more beneficiary countries plus (b) the direct cost of processing performed in those countries is not less than 35 percent of the appraised value of the product when it enters the United States. Up to 15 percentage points of that 35 percent may be derived from U.S. parts or materials used to produce the product in a beneficiary Sub-Saharan Africa country or countries.

General Rule of Origin Guidelines

In most cases, U.S. Customs will appraise the merchandise at the transaction value, that is, the price actually paid or payable for the merchandise when sold for export to the United States. This value would include the following elements:

1. The packing costs incurred by the buyer
2. The selling commission incurred by the buyer
3. The value of any assistance provided to the producer free of charge by the buyer
4. The royalty or license fee that the buyer is required to pay as a condition of the sale
5. The proceeds accruing to the seller of any subsequent resale, disposal, or use of the imported merchandise

In general, shipping and other costs related to transporting the GSP articles from the port of export to the United States are included neither in the value of the article nor in the value-added calculation.

The direct costs of processing include all costs, whether directly incurred in or those that can be reasonably allocated to the growth, production, manufacture, or assembly of the merchandise in question. These include the following:

- Actual labor, fringe benefits, and on-the-job training costs
- Engineering, supervisory, quality control, and similar personnel costs
- Dies, molds, and tooling costs, as well as depreciation on machinery and equipment
- Research, development, design, blueprints and engineering, and inspection and testing costs

The costs that may not be included in the direct costs of processing are those that are not directly attributable to the merchandise being considered or are not "costs" of manufacturing. These costs include profit and general expenses and business overhead such as administrative salaries, casualty and liability insurance, advertising, and sales representative's salaries, commissions, or expenses.

Questions regarding rule of origin requirements for specific products may be directed to: Director, National Commodity Specialist Division, U.S. Customs Service, 6 World Trade Center, New York, New York 10048.

Chapter 5

Trade Benefits for Textiles and Apparel

AGOA extends duty-free and quota-free benefits to imports of a number of apparel items, and textile products used to make those goods, produced in eligible sub-Saharan African countries. In most instances, these benefits are available without limits on the total volume of apparel exported from eligible sub-Saharan African countries to the United States. In two specific instances, however, the volume of U.S. imports of particular types of apparel exported from eligible Sub-Saharan Africa countries is subject to a cap.

In order for apparel/textile products of a country to be eligible for duty-free treatment, the AGOA beneficiary country must be designated as eligible for apparel/textile benefits. Such a designation requires that the United States determine that the country has an effective visa system to prevent the unlawful transshipment of apparel/textile articles and the use of counterfeit documents relating to the importation of the articles into the United States. USTR will publish a Federal Register notice when it designates a country(ies) as eligible for AGOA apparel/textile benefits. This information will be available at www.ustr.gov and at www.agoa.gov

Duty-Free, Quota-Free Treatment

AGOA provides that the following five types of textile and apparel products imported from eligible sub-Saharan African countries can enter the United States duty-free and quota-free. It should be recognized that many complicated factors may be involved in customs issues and that this information is for general information purposes only. Customs regulations pertaining to AGOA are available at www.agoa.gov under product eligibility. For answers to specific questions or to request a ruling, direct enquiries to: Director, National Commodity Specialist Division, U.S. Customs Service, 6 World Trade Center, New York, New York 10048.

- Apparel assembled in sub-Saharan Africa from fabrics wholly formed and cut in the United States, from yarns wholly formed in the United States.
- Apparel cut and assembled in sub-Saharan Africa, using U.S. thread, from fabrics wholly formed in the United States from yarns wholly formed in the United States.
- Sweaters knit to shape from cashmere or certain wool. The sweaters must be in chief weight of cashmere, or 50 percent or more by weight of merino wool measuring 18.5 microns in diameter. Fiber and yarn can come from any country, including countries outside sub-Saharan Africa.
- Apparel cut or knit to shape and assembled in sub-Saharan Africa from third-country yarn or fabric in short supply. The yarns and fabrics considered in "short supply" is derived from the North American Free Trade Agreement (see Annex 401 of the NAFTA). Briefly, they currently include, among others, silk, linen, fine-count cotton circular knit fabrics for certain apparel, cotton velveteen, fine wale cotton corduroy, Harris Tweed, batiste fabrics, and nine types of lightweight high-thread count broadwoven fabrics for men's and boy's shirts. (A list of "short supply" yarns and fabrics is provided at Annex 5. Additional yarns and fabrics may be added in the future through procedures detailed in the AGOA).

- Handloomed, handmade and folklore articles. Products covered under this category will be determined through U.S. consultations with the beneficiary country (or countries) and must also be certified by the competent authority of the beneficiary country (or countries) as a handloomed, handmade, or folklore article.
- Certain other apparel products will be duty-free and quota-free up to a specified cap (aggregate level of imports of these products from all beneficiary sub-Saharan African countries) that is based on U.S. total apparel imports in a previous 12-month period. The specific products covered under the cap are:
  - Apparel assembled in sub-Saharan Africa from fabric wholly formed in sub-Saharan Africa from U.S. or sub-Saharan African yarn.
  - Apparel assembled in sub-Saharan Africa from non-U.S., non-sub-Saharan African fabric ("third country" fabric). Only lesser-developed sub-Saharan African countries, defined as those with a per capita gross national product of less than $1,500 a year in 1998 as measured by the World Bank, may export apparel wholly assembled in their countries, regardless of the origin of the fabric, through September 30, 2004. According to the World Bank's 1999/2000 World Development Report, which gives 1998 data, all sub-Saharan African countries except Botswana, Equatorial Guinea, Gabon, Mauritius, Namibia, Seychelles, and South Africa fall below this per capita threshold and are eligible to use third-country fabric in their duty-free apparel exports to the United States through September 30, 2004.

The single cap on preferential treatment for these two categories of apparel is as follows:

Share of Total U.S. Apparel Imports, Measured In Square Meter Equivalents, In Previous 12-Month Period for Which Data Are Available

October 1, 2000 – September 30, 2001	1.50%
October 1, 2001 – September 30, 2002	1.78%
October 1, 2002 – September 30, 2003	2.06%
October 1, 2003 – September 30, 2004	2.34%
October 1, 2004 – September 30, 2005	2.62%
October 1, 2005 – September 30, 2006	2.90%
October 1, 2006 – September 30, 2007	3.18%
October 1, 2007 – September 30, 2008	3.50%

The duty-free cap is not allocated among countries. It will be filled on a "first-come, first-served" basis. In any year that the cap is met, subject apparel products from sub-Saharan Africa may still enter the United States; however, they will be assessed the prevailing normal trade relations duty rate (Column 1 rates detailed in the Harmonized Tariff System of the United States) at the time of entry. For the first year, two-thirds of the cap was made available on October 2, 2000. The remaining one-third of the cap, plus any quantity remaining unfilled from the earlier two-thirds of the cap, will be made available on January 1, 2001.

In addition to the cap on these imports, AGOA includes protection for U.S. industries from surges in apparel imports wholly assembled in sub-Saharan Africa countries from regional and third-country fabric and yarn. The Secretary of Commerce will monitor these apparel imports on a monthly basis. If the Secretary determines that there has been a surge of imports in such increased quantities as to cause serious damage, or threat thereof, to U.S. producers, then the President must suspend benefits for that particular product from the sub-Saharan African country or countries that are exporting it. The Secretary will only make a determination after a notice has been published in the Federal Register and a thorough investigation has been concluded.

Quotas on Imports from Kenya and Mauritius

Existing U.S. quotas on textile and apparel products imported into the United States from Kenya and Mauritius will be terminated within 30 days after the U.S. Government has determined that each country has adopted an effective visa system to prevent the transshipment of textile and apparel articles and the use of counterfeit importation documents.

Findings and Trimmings

An apparel article is eligible for benefits even if the article contains findings or trimmings of foreign origin, if the value of such findings and trimmings does not exceed 25 percent of the cost of the components of the assembled article. Examples of findings and trimmings include sewing thread (except when used to assemble in sub-Saharan Africa U.S.-cut fabric), hooks and eyes, snaps, buttons, "bow buds," decorative lace trims, elastic strips, and zippers. Elastic strips are considered findings or trimmings only if they are each less than 1 inch in width and used in the production of brassieres.

Certain Interlinings

Certain interlinings are eligible for duty-free treatment as findings and trimmings. The interlinings permitted include only a chest type plate, a "hymo" piece, or "sleeve header" made of woven or weft-inserted warp knit construction, and made of coarse animal hair or man-made filaments. This benefit will terminate if the President determines such interlinings are made in the United States in commercial quantities.

De Minimis Rule

Apparel products assembled in sub-Saharan Africa which would otherwise be considered eligible for AGOA benefits but for the presence of some fibers or yarns not wholly formed in the United States or the beneficiary sub-Saharan African country will still be eligible for benefits as long as the total weight of all such fibers and yarns is not more than 7 percent of the total weight of the article.

Chapter 6

Customs-Related Requirements for Apparel Benefits: Protection Against Transshipment

Preferential treatment for textile and apparel articles under AGOA is conditioned on the enforcement of measures to prevent transshipment. Transshipment is defined as the use of false information in claiming the country of origin, manufacture, processing, or assembly of an article or any of its components. This false information is used to export an article duty-free to the United States when it otherwise would be deemed dutiable and/or counted against a quota. When transshipment occurs, the benefits of AGOA accrue to others outside of sub-Saharan Africa, taking away jobs and opportunities from sub-Saharan African countries and people and diminishing the benefits eligible sub-Saharan African countries receive from AGOA. Anti-transshipment measures are aimed at protecting both sub-Saharan African countries and their producers as well as the U.S. market and domestic industry.

In order for an eligible sub-Saharan African country to export qualifying apparel products to the United States duty-free, the United States must determine that the country has met certain customs-related requirements including (the specific provisions are contained in Section 113 of the AGOA):

- adoption of an effective visa system, domestic laws, and enforcement measures to prevent illegal transshipment and the use of counterfeit documents relating to the importation of eligible apparel products into the United States;
- enactment of legislation or issuance of regulations that allow the U.S. Customs Service to thoroughly investigate allegations of transshipment;
- agreement to report total imports and exports of the covered articles in that country;
- agreement to cooperate fully with the United States to address and take action necessary to prevent circumvention;
- agreement to require all producers and exporters of covered articles to maintain complete records of production and all materials used in that production for at least two years after production or export; and
- agreement to provide documentation to the U.S. Customs Service establishing country of origin of covered articles. These documents include production records, factory information, the number and type of machinery used in production, number of workers employed in production, and certification from both the manufacturer and the exporter.
- implementation of or substantial progress toward implementation of procedures and requirements similar to the relevant procedures and requirements under chapter five of the NAFTA.

The U.S. Customs Service will provide technical assistance to beneficiary sub-Saharan Africa countries in developing and implementing an appropriate visa system, legislation and regulations and in training their officials in anti-transshipment enforcement. Customs will also send production verification teams to at least four beneficiary sub-Saharan African countries each year.

An exporter, any successor of the exporter, and any other entity owned or operated by the principal of the exporter, from a beneficiary sub-Saharan African country that has been determined to have engaged in transshipment of apparel or textiles will lose all apparel and textile duty-free benefits for a period five years. Other penalties may also be applied.

Chapter 7

Country Eligibility Requirements

The benefits established by AGOA are targeted towards the 48 countries of sub-Saharan Africa. However, sub-Saharan African countries do not automatically receive all of the benefits of AGOA. Certain AGOA trade benefits will be extended only to those countries that meet specific eligibility criteria. These criteria were developed in consultation with sub-Saharan African countries and reflect an understanding that additional U.S. market access provided under AGOA will only generate sustainable economic growth and development if countries have appropriate domestic policies. The criteria constitute "best practice" policies that will ultimately attract trade and investment and foster widely-shared prosperity.

Sub-Saharan African countries designated as eligible or beneficiary countries must undergo an annual review of their status. Countries may be added or withdrawn from the list of eligible or beneficiary countries during this annual review. The President will monitor, review, and report annually to Congress each country's progress towards meeting the criteria. The President must terminate the designation of a country as a beneficiary sub-Saharan African country if he determines that the country is no longer making continual progress towards meeting the eligibility criteria. If the President terminates a country's designation, it will be effective January 1 of the year following the year in which the determination is made.

In considering the eligibility of sub-Saharan African countries for AGOA beneficiary status, the AGOA required the President to consider the countries based on the existing criteria under the Generalized System of Preferences program as well as new AGOA criteria and a new GSP criterion. These new criteria include whether these countries have established or are making continual progress toward establishing, a market-based economy, the rule of law, the elimination of barriers to U.S. trade and investment, economic policies to reduce poverty, the protection of internationally recognized worker rights, and a system to combat corruption. Additionally, countries (1) cannot engage in activities that undermine U.S. national security or foreign policy interests, (2) cannot engage in gross violations of internationally-recognized human rights, (3) cannot provide support for acts of international terrorism, and (4) must have implemented their commitments to eliminate the worst forms of child labor.

Eligibility to receive certain benefits under AGOA derives from Section 104(a) of the AGOA, section 502(b) of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended (containing the GSP eligibility criteria), and section 506A of the Trade Act of 1974. Section 104(a) is provided below in its entirety. A summary of relevant parts of Section 502(b) is also included below.

“SEC. 104. ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

(a) In General.-- The President is authorized to designate a sub-Saharan African country as an eligible sub-Saharan African country if the President determines that the country--

(1) has established, or is making continual progress toward establishing--

(A) a market-based economy that protects private property rights, incorporates an open rules-based trading system, and minimizes government interference in the economy through measures such as price controls, subsidies, and government ownership of economic assets;

(B) the rule of law, political pluralism, and the right to due process, a fair trial, and equal protection under the law;

(C) the elimination of barriers to United States trade and investment, including by--

(i) the provision of national treatment and measures to create an environment conducive to domestic and foreign investment;

(ii) the protection of intellectual property; and

(iii) the resolution of bilateral trade and investment disputes;

(D) economic policies to reduce poverty, increase the availability of health care and educational opportunities, expand physical infrastructure, promote the development of private enterprise, and encourage the formation of capital markets through micro-credit or other programs;

(E) a system to combat corruption and bribery, such as signing and implementing the Convention on Combating Bribery of Foreign Public Officials in International Business Transactions; and

(F) protection of internationally recognized worker rights, including the right of association, the right to organize and bargain collectively, a prohibition on the use of any form of forced or compulsory labor, a minimum age for the employment of children, and acceptable conditions of work with respect to minimum wages, hours of work, and occupational safety and health;

(2) does not engage in activities that undermine United States national security or foreign policy interests; and

(3) does not engage in gross violations of internationally recognized human rights or provide support for acts of international terrorism and cooperates in international efforts to eliminate human rights violations and terrorist activities.

(b) Continuing Compliance: If the President determines that an eligible sub-Saharan African country is not making continual progress in meeting the requirements described in subsection (a)(1), the President shall terminate the designation of the country made pursuant to subsection (a)."

Summary of Section 502(b) of the Trade Act of 1974 as amended.

To be eligible for the GSP benefits, a country must:

1. Not be a Communist country unless its products receives normal trade relations treatment, it is a member of the World Trade Organization and International Monetary Fund or is not dominated or controlled by international communism (Sec. 502(b)(2)(A));

2. Not be a party to an arrangement or participates in any action that withholds or has the effect of withholding vital commodity resources or raises their prices to unreasonable levels, causing serious disruption of the world economy (Sec. 502(b)(2)(B));

3. Not afford preferential treatment to products of a developed country which has or is likely to have a significant adverse effect on U.S. commerce (Sec. 502(b)(2)(C));
4. Not have nationalized, expropriated or otherwise seized property, including trademarks, patents, or copyrights owned by a U.S. citizen without compensation (Sec. 502(b)(2)(D));
5. Recognize or enforce arbitral awards to U.S. citizens or corporations (Sec. 502(b)(2)(E));
6. Not aid or abet, by granting sanctuary from prosecution, any individual or group which has committed international terrorism (Sec. 502(b)(2)(F));
7. Take steps to afford internationally-recognized worker rights, including the right of association, the right to organize and bargain collectively, freedom from compulsory labor, a minimum age for the employment of children, and acceptable conditions of work with respect to minimum wages, hours of work and occupational safety and health (Sec. 502(b)(2)(G)).
8. Implement its commitments to eliminate the worst forms of child labor, as defined by the International Labor Organization's Convention 182 (Sec. 502(b)(2)(H); this provision was added by the Trade and Development Act of 2000 in Section 412). To determine whether a country is complying with this provision, the President should consider (1) whether the country has adequate laws and regulations proscribing the worst forms of child labor; (2) whether the country has adequate laws and regulations for the implementation and enforcement of such measures; (3) whether the country has established formal institutional mechanisms to investigate and address complaints relating to allegations of the worst forms of child labor; (4) whether social programs exist in the country to prevent the engagement of children in the worst forms of child labor; (5) whether the country has a comprehensive policy for the elimination of the worst forms of child labor and (6) whether the country is making continual progress toward eliminating the worst forms of child labor.

Failure to meet criteria 4 through 7 may not prevent the granting of GSP eligibility if the President determines that such a designation would be in the national economic interest of the United States.

In addition, the President must take into account:

1. A country's expressed desire to be designated a beneficiary country (Sec. 502(c)(1));
2. The country's level of economic development (Sec. 502(c)(2));
3. Whether other major developed countries extend GSP to the country (Sec. 502(c)(3));
4. The extent to which the country provides "equitable and reasonable access" to its markets and basic commodity resources and refrains from unreasonable export practices (Sec. 502(c)(4));
5. The extent to which the country provides adequate and effective protection of intellectual property rights (Sec. 502(c)(5)), and
6. The extent to which the country has taken action to reduce trade-distorting investment practices and policies and reduce or eliminate barriers to trade in services (Sec. 502(c)(6)) and

7. Whether the country has taken or is taking steps to afford internationally-recognized worker rights, as defined above in item 7 (Sec. 502(c)(7)).

Chapter 8

Other AGOA Provisions (Non-Trade Program)

While AGOA primarily focuses on preferential trade programs, it also includes a number of complementary provisions.

AGOA creates a Presidential and Cabinet-level U.S.-Sub-Saharan Africa Trade and Economic Cooperation Forum that will institutionalize America's economic engagement with Africa, and secure, through structured dialogue -- on all levels of government, the private sector, and the non-governmental organization (NGO) community -- practical policies for strengthening trade and investment and building mutually beneficial economic opportunities between the United States and sub-Saharan Africa.

AGOA urges Congress and the President to work together with the international community to make bilateral and multilateral debt relief available to those countries most in need of it.

In addition, AGOA directs the U.S. Overseas Private Investment Corporation to increase loans, guarantees, and insurance that support projects in sub-Saharan Africa, including those undertaken by women entrepreneurs and those that maximize employment opportunities for poor individuals. The United States Export-Import Bank activities in sub-Saharan Africa will also be expanded. These provisions of AGOA will provide greater certainty to U.S. exporters and investors of support in their initiatives in sub-Saharan Africa.

AGOA directs the United States to provide technical assistance to companies and governments in sub-Saharan Africa. This assistance will be used, for example, to liberalize trade and promote exports, facilitate the integration of sub-Saharan African countries into the World Trade Organization, and promote regulatory and fiscal reforms.

MARKET ACCESS OF AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS

Who initiates the import request?

- The national animal and/or plant health authorities of the exporting country
- An importer located in the United States

What Agencies are responsible for which products and why?

- Aphis restrictions are in effect due to disease and/or pest conditions in a country. Restrictions protect the national animal and plant health of the U.S.
- F&W restrictions are in effect to protect endangered and threatened species
- FSIS restrictions are in effect to ensure meat and poultry are processed under standards equivalent to those of the United States. Restrictions protect human health
- FDA has authority over all meat products not covered by FSIS and all other foods to protect human health

Determine which U.S. Agencies have regulatory authority over the agricultural product

Animal and Health Inspection Service (APHIS)

- All live animals and animal products
- All live plants and plant products
- APHIS determines enterability of a commodity based on the disease and pest status of the exporting country

Fish and Wildlife Service

- all animals, plants and their products which are CITES listed
- CITES: International agreement which protects endangered and threatened species

Food Safety and Inspection Services (FSIS)

- All meat and poultry
- processed products containing more than 3% raw meat
- Generally, freedom from disease must be established by APHIS before FSIS works with national authorities to approve meat inspection system

Food and Drug Administration (FDA)

- Jurisdiction over imported foods, fish and meats not covered by FSIS (such as game meat)
- No permit required. Inspection at port of entry.

Annex 2

Products Potentially Eligible for Duty-Free Treatment under AGOA if Imported from Eligible Sub-Saharan Africa Countries

The following is a list of products that are being considered for duty-free treatment, if imported from AGOA beneficiary countries, under AGOA. A determination of what products will be granted duty-free treatment is expected by the end of 2000 and will be published in the Federal Register and available at www.agoa.gov.

These products are arranged by broad product groupings and, within those groupings, classified numerically according to the Harmonized Tariff System (HTS) of the United States. The tariff schedule which details all of the HTS codes applicable to all products imported into the United States may be accessed through the Internet at <http://www.usitc.gov/taffairs.htm>

Note: If there is an A+ under GSP Status that means that the product is currently duty-free under GSP for countries designated as “least-developed beneficiary developing countries” under GSP. A list of these countries is included at Annex 1.

Annex 3

Products that are Currently Eligible for Duty-Free Treatment Under GSP

The following is a list of products currently eligible for duty-free treatment if imported from a GSP beneficiary. Annex 2 contains a list of additional products, some of which (those with an A+ under GSP Status) are currently eligible for GSP treatment if imported from a GSP least- developed beneficiary developing country (those countries with an * under the GSP list in Annex 1).

For this Annex, if an “A” is listed under “Special” it means the product is eligible for duty-free treatment for imports from all GSP beneficiary countries. An A* indicates articles that are GSP-eligible except for imports from one or more specific countries that have lost GSP eligibility for that article (this currently applies to very few articles from sub-Saharan African countries).

PREFACE

On December 8, 1993, Title VI of the North American Free Trade Agreement Implementation Act (Pub. L. 103-182, 107 Stat. 2057), also known as the Customs Modernization or “Mod” Act, became effective. These provisions amended many sections of the Tariff Act of 1930 and related laws.

Two new concepts that emerge from the Mod Act are “informed compliance” and “shared responsibility,” which are premised on the idea that in order to maximize voluntary compliance with Customs laws and regulations, the trade community needs to be clearly and completely informed of its legal obligations. Accordingly, the Mod Act imposes a greater obligation on Customs to provide the public with improved information concerning the trade community’s rights and responsibilities under the Customs and related laws. In addition, both the trade and Customs share responsibility for carrying out these requirements. For example, under Section 484 of the Tariff Act as amended (19 U.S.C. §1484), the importer of record is responsible for using reasonable care to enter, classify and determine the value of imported merchandise and to provide any other information necessary to enable Customs to properly assess duties, collect accurate statistics, and determine whether other applicable legal requirements, if any, have been met. The Customs Service is then responsible for fixing the final classification and value of the merchandise. An importer of record’s failure to exercise reasonable care could delay release of the merchandise and, in some cases, could result in the imposition of penalties.

The Office of Regulations and Rulings has been given a major role in meeting Customs informed compliance responsibilities. In order to provide information to the public, Customs has issued a series of informed compliance publications, and videos, on new or revised Customs requirements, regulations or procedures, and a variety of classification and valuation issues.

The Offices of Field Operations, Strategic Trade and Regulations and Rulings originally prepared the material in this publication on Textile & Apparel Rules of Origin, for internal Customs use, but are distributing it to the public as part of a series of informed compliance publications advising the trade community of changes in Customs procedures as a result of the Mod Act and the Uruguay Round Agreements Act. It has been updated to incorporate amendments contained in the Trade Development Act of 2000. We sincerely hope that this material, together with seminars and increased access to Customs rulings, will help the trade community to improve, as smoothly as possible, voluntary compliance with Customs laws.

The material in this publication is provided for general information purposes only. Because many complicated factors can be involved in customs issues, an importer may wish to obtain a ruling under Customs Regulations, 19 CFR Part 177, or to obtain advice from an expert who specializes in customs matters, for example, a licensed customs broker, attorney or consultant. Reliance solely on the information in this pamphlet may not be considered reasonable care.

Comments and suggestions are welcomed and should be addressed to the Assistant Commissioner at the Office of Regulations and Rulings, U.S. Customs Service, 1300 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, D.C. 20229.

RULES OF ORIGIN FOR TEXTILE AND APPAREL PRODUCTS

Introduction

Section 334 of the Uruguay Round Agreements Act (Pub. L. 103-465, codified as 19 U.S.C. §3592) established rules of origin for textile and apparel products which are imported into the Customs Territory of the United States. Except as otherwise provided by statute, these rules apply for purposes of the Customs laws and the administration of quantitative restrictions (quotas). The law required the Secretary of the Treasury to promulgate implementing regulations, which appear as section 102.21 of the Customs Regulations (§102.21 CR, 19 CFR §102.21). Section 405 of the Trade and Development Act of 2000 (Pub. L. 106-200) amended Section 334 of the Uruguay Round Agreements Act to clarify the rules of origin for certain textile products. Please be advised that Customs is in the process of amending the regulations contained in 19 CFR §102.21 to reflect the changes mandated by Section 405.

This publication was adapted from material which was originally prepared to help Customs Attachés in foreign countries interpret and explain the §334 rules of origin to manufacturers and exporters. It has answers to many of the questions which Customs headquarters has received from both Customs field personnel and the trade. While it is only a guide, this publication provides the basis of the rules in a format which should be useful to importers and exporters. For that reason we are making the material available not only to Customs personnel, but to the trade as well.

It must be remembered that this publication does not supersede any Customs laws, regulations or rulings and should only be used as a general guide. If there are any technical questions, they should be addressed to the Commercial Rulings Division of the Office of Regulations and Rulings or to the National Import Specialist responsible for the particular commodity. Addresses for these offices appear in the material which follows.

Effective Date

The country of origin rules contained in 19 CFR §102.21 apply to textile and apparel products (see below for coverage) entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after July 1, 1996. This date is set by law and does not provide for a grace period, shipments on the water, time entered into the port limits, entry rejects or any other exceptions except for certain pre-existing contracts entered into prior to July 20, 1994 which were required to be filed with the Commissioner of Customs. The country of origin rules, as amended by Section 405 of the Trade and Development Act of 2000, apply to goods entered or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption, on or after May 18, 2000.

Pre-Existing Contracts

All contracts to be considered for an 18-month grace period had to be submitted within 60 days after enactment of the Uruguay Round Agreements Act. Action has been completed on all contracts that were filed. All manufacturers who submitted such contracts were notified of the status of their contracts.

Coverage

The §334 country of origin rules for textile and apparel products apply to the textile items classified in Chapters 50 through 63 of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule (HTS) and to the following textile items in the HTS classifications listed below which have been defined by the World Trade Organization as textile and apparel products:

3005.90	Wadding, gauze, bandages and the like (nonadhesive)
3921.12	Woven, knitted or non-woven fabrics coated, covered or laminated with plastics
3921.13	Woven, knitted or non-woven fabrics coated, covered or laminated with plastics
3921.90	Woven, knitted or non-woven fabrics coated, covered or laminated with plastics
4202	Luggage, handbags, and flatgoods with an outer surface predominantly of textile materials
6405.20	Footwear with soles and uppers of wool felt
6406.10	Footwear uppers with 50% or more of the external surface area of textile materials
6406.99	Leg warmers and gaiters of textile material
6501- 6505	Headwear of textiles
6601	Umbrellas
7019	Yarns and woven fabrics of glass fibers
8708	Safety seat belts for motor vehicles
8804	Parachutes; their parts and accessories

9404.90	Comforters, quilts, pillows and cushions, and similar articles of textile materials
9502.91	Doll clothing
9612.10	Woven typewriter ribbons or similar ribbons, of man-made fibers

More specific classifications for the above products, beyond the four digit headings or six digit subheadings provided above, can be found in the Federal Register, Vol. 60, No. 171, September 5, 1995, page 46198, and in §102.21 CR, (19 CFR §102.21).

Principles Behind The Rules

(1) General Rules

In general, except as otherwise provided for by law, a textile or apparel product, for purposes of the Customs laws and the administration of quantitative restrictions, originates in a country, territory or insular possession according to the following rules:

(A) Wholly obtained or produced

The country of origin is the country in which a textile or apparel product is wholly obtained or produced when the product is completely produced or manufactured (except for de minimus materials as defined in 19 CFR §102.13) in one country.

(B) Yarn, Including Single and Multiple Yarns

The country of origin of yarn, thread, twine, cordage, rope, cable or braiding is:

- (i) STAPLE yarn, etc. - the country in which staple fibers are spun into yarn
- (ii) FILAMENT yarn, etc. - the country in which filament is extruded
- (iii) PLIED, GIMPED AND CABLED yarns, etc. - the country in which the fibers or filaments used in the yarn are spun or extruded

(C) Fabric

The country of origin of a FABRIC is the country in which the fabric is woven, knitted, needled, tufted, felted, entangled or created by any other fabric making process. (NOTE: A fabric making process is defined in 19 CFR §102.21(b)(2) as “any manufacturing operation that begins with polymers, fibers, filaments (including strips), yarns, twine, cordage, rope, or fabric strips and results in a textile fabric.”)

NOTE: The country of origin of certain fabrics is affected by special rules set forth in section 2(C) below.

NOTE: The country of origin of QUILTED FABRICS is the country in which the fabrics are formed (one of the specific exceptions listed below).

(D) All Other Textile Products

The country of origin of all other textile and apparel products is the country in which the components of the product are wholly assembled (except for minor attachments such as buttons, beads, spangles, embroidery, etc., or minor subassemblies such as collars, cuffs, pockets, plackets, etc.).

NOTE: The rules generally provide that processing operations or assembly (particularly for apparel), not cutting components, confer country of origin (however, see pre-existing contracts above and the Israel and insular possession exceptions below).

(2) Special rules

(A) Specified HTS Classifications

Special rules govern the articles in the following 16 specified Harmonized Tariff Schedule (HTS) classifications (the HTS classification is followed by a general description):

(i) Articles Produced from Yarns

5609 - the country of origin of articles made from yarn, strips, twine, cordage, rope or cables is the country in which the yarn, etc., is produced.

(ii) Articles Produced From Fabric

The country of origin of certain articles made from fabric in the following Harmonized Tariff Schedule classifications is the country in which the fabric is produced:

5807	Labels, badges, emblems
5811	Quilted textile products in the piece ( i.e. , lengths or rolls of quilted fabrics)
6209.20.5040	Baby diapers (cotton woven)
6213	Handkerchiefs
6214	Shawls, scarves, mufflers, mantillas, veils and the like
6301	Blankets, traveling rugs
6302	Bed Linen, table linen, toilet linen, kitchen linen
6303	Curtains, drapes, interior blinds, valances
6304	Bedspreads, furnishings
6305	Sacks and bags for packing
6306	Tarpaulins, awnings, sunblinds, tents, sails, camping goods
6307.10	Dust cloths, mop cloths, polishing cloths, shop towels, bar mops, dish cloths
6307.90	Labels, cords, tassels, corset and footwear lacings, toys for pets, wall banners, surgical towels, surgical drapes, tufted towels, pillow shells, quilt and comforter shells, national flags, moving pads, and other made up textile articles not specifically provided for elsewhere
6308	Needlecraft sets
9404.90	Comforters, quilts, pillows and cushions, and similar articles of textile materials

NOTE: The country of origin of certain articles is affected by special rules set forth in section 2(C) below.

(B) Special rules govern knit-to-shape.

The country of origin of knit-to-shape products is the country in which major parts are knitted or crocheted directly to the shape used in the finished product.

Knit-to-shape means that the panels or parts (not including parts such as collars, cuffs, waistbands, plackets, pockets, linings, paddings, trim or similar parts) are knit to the shape used in the final assembly process (rather than knit into a tube or blanket of material that is cut to shape). Minor cutting, trimming or sewing does not affect whether components are knit to shape. Knit-to-shape applies when 50 percent or more of the exterior surface area (not including patch pockets, appliques, etc.) is formed by major parts that have been knitted or crocheted directly to the shape used in the good.

For hosiery, the addition of gussets or top elastics or the closing of toes does not affect the status of knit-to-shape.

(C) Dyed and Printed Fabrics and Articles Made from Fabrics

Special rules are applicable to certain fabrics and articles made from fabrics which are dyed and printed when accompanied by two or more certain specified finishing operations.

(i) Fabrics

The country of origin of fabric classified under the Harmonized Tariff Schedule as of silk, cotton, man-made fiber, or vegetable fiber is the country in which the fabric is both dyed and printed when accompanied by two or more of the following finishing operations: bleaching, shrinking, fulling, napping, decating, permanent stiffening, weighting, permanent embossing or moireing.

(ii) Articles Made From Fabric

Notwithstanding the rule set forth in (A)(ii) above, the country of origin of certain articles made from fabric in the following eighteen (18) Harmonized Tariff Schedule classifications is the country in which the fabric is both dyed and printed when accompanied by two or more of the following finishing operations: bleaching, shrinking, fulling, napping, decating, permanent stiffening, weighting, permanent embossing or moireing, excepting goods classified under such headings as of cotton or wool or consisting of fiber blends containing sixteen percent (16%) or more by weight of cotton (the HTS classifications are followed by general descriptions):

6117.10	knitted or crocheted shawls, scarves, mufflers, mantillas, veils and the like
6213	handkerchiefs, not knitted or crocheted
6214	shawls, scarves, mufflers, mantillas, veils and the like, not knitted or crocheted
6302.22	printed bed linen, not knitted or crocheted, of man-made fibers
6302.29	printed bed linen, not knitted or crocheted, of other textile materials
6302.52	table linen, not knitted or crocheted, of flax
6302.53	table linen, not knitted or crocheted, of man-made fibers
6302.59	table linen, not knitted or crocheted, of other textile materials
6302.92	toilet and kitchen linen of flax
6302.93	toilet and kitchen linen of man-made fibers
6302.99	toilet and kitchen linen of other textile materials
6303.92	curtains, including drapes, interior blinds and bed valances, not knitted or crocheted, of synthetic fibers
6303.99	curtains, including drapes, interior blinds and bed valances, not knitted or crocheted, of other textile materials
6304.19	bedspreads, not knitted or crocheted
6304.93	other furnishing articles, not knitted or crocheted, of synthetic fibers
6304.99	other furnishing articles, not knitted or crocheted, of other textile materials
9404.90.85	quilts, eiderdowns, comforters and similar articles
9404.90.95	other articles of bedding and similar furnishings

(3) Multi-country Rule

If the country of origin of a textile or apparel product cannot be determined by one of the above rules and the product is created as a result of processing in two or more countries, the country of origin is:

- (A) The country in which the most important assembly or most important manufacturing process occurs.

The most important processing operation must be determined on a case-by-case basis through binding rulings and court decisions. The resulting body of rulings and court decisions may serve as guidelines in the future.

- (B) If the most important assembly or manufacturing process cannot be determined, the country of origin is the last country in which an important assembly or manufacturing operation occurred.

For example: if the right half of a coat is assembled in one country and the left half is assembled in another country, and provided the processing steps in each country are equally balanced, then the country of origin is probably the country in which the two halves are sewn together (that is, the last country in which an important processing operation occurred) because each half is equally important.

More realistically, if one yarn of a plied yarn is produced in one country and the other yarn is produced in a second country, and the yarns are twisted to form a plied yarn, then, assuming both yarns are equal in the final product, the country in which the yarns are twisted together is the country of origin because each yarn is equally important and you have to resort to the last country in which an important processing occurred.

Another example of when the last important processing rule would be used to determine origin is in the case of a tent in which the fabric for the roof and floor are produced in one country, the fabric for the walls is produced in another country, and all the fabrics are cut and assembled in a third country. As a tent is classified in heading 6306, according to the language of §334 its origin should be based on where the fabric for the tent is formed. But as the fabric is formed in different countries, and it is difficult to argue that fabric for roofs and floors is more important than fabric for walls, resort to the last important processing, i.e., where the fabrics are cut and sewn into the tent, renders the origin determination.

Multi-country processing of goods often leads to origin determinations based upon the place where the most important processing operation occurred or, if that cannot be ascertained, the last place where an important processing operation occurred. Such determinations can only be made on a case-by-case basis, conditioned upon the specific facts in each case. As such, binding rulings should be requested from:

U.S. Customs Service
Director, National Commodity Specialist Division
6 World Trade Center
CIE, Room 437, ATTN: Binding Rulings Section
New York, New York 10048

or

Office of Rulings and Regulations
Commercial Rulings Division
U.S. Customs Service
1300 Pennsylvania Ave., NW
Washington, DC 20229

Although ruling requests may be sent to New York or Headquarters, as a general rule initial rulings are issued by the National Commodity Specialist Division in New York, while Customs Headquarters considers any appeals.

The requestor should be sure to specify that the ruling is requested pursuant to the textile and apparel rules of origin in §334, as amended. Complete information should be supplied as to manufacturing and processing and a sample (or drawings if a sample is not practical) showing exact subassemblies or processing steps should be submitted with the request for a ruling. Rulings requested from New York should be answered within 30 days if information provided by the requestor is complete.

Hierarchy of Rules

The above rules are arranged in a hierarchy to be applied in the following sequential order as specified in Customs Regulation §102.21 (c)(and pursuant to the amendments contained in Section 405 of the Trade and Development Act)(§102.21 is currently in the process of being amended to reflect the amendments to §334 set forth in Section 405):

1. Textile or apparel products wholly produced in one country.
2. Each foreign material undergoes requisite tariff shift (as provided in Customs Regulation §102.21),

EXPLANATION:

All textile and apparel products are listed by 4-digit to 10-digit HTS classifications or groups of classifications in the tariff shift rules. The tariff shift rules simply explain the requirements to change the country of origin of textile and apparel products (as shown in the preceding section) by using tariff classifications rather than textile or apparel product descriptions. A tariff shift states that, for any given classification, to change the country of origin of a textile or apparel product there must be a shift from one Harmonized Tariff Schedule (HTS) classification to another as listed in the tariff shift rules and/or the processing which occurs must meet any other requirement that is specified in the tariff shift rules in Customs Regulation §102.21(e).

EXAMPLE:

One group of classifications in the tariff shift rules is 5208 through 5212, which contain the classifications for cotton woven fabrics. The tariff shift rule for classifications 5208-5212 (as amended in interim regulations) states that:

- a) A change from greige fabric of heading 5208 through 5212 to finished fabric of heading 5208 through 5212 by both dyeing and printing when accompanied by two or more of the following finishing operations: bleaching, shrinking, fulling, napping, decating, permanent stiffening, weighting, permanent embossing, or moireing; or
- b) If the country of origin cannot be determined under (1) above, a change to heading 5208 through 5212 from any classification outside that group, provided that the change is the result of a fabric forming-making process.

To confer country of origin to a cotton woven fabric, a greige fabric must have been dyed and printed and accompanied by two or more specified finishing operations. For example, a greige fabric formed in China which is imported into Pakistan where it is dyed, printed, shrunk and permanently embossed will be country of origin Pakistan.

In the alternative, the creation of the fabric must be from some product other than another cotton woven fabric; for example, the fabric could be formed from cotton yarns, or from polyester and cotton yarns, from fibers or any other product except cotton woven fabric (e.g., joining two narrow fabrics). The second requirement of creating a fabric from a fabric forming process must also be met. This tariff shift rule merely restates the fabric rule (in the section above) using tariff classification terms or definitions.

The result is that the determination of the country of origin is defined in objective tariff classification shifts rather than subjective terms such as “substantial assembly” or “new commercial product.” By using HTS classifications, there is no doubt when a change in the country of origin occurs. If a shipper knows the classification of a textile product he is exporting, he merely has to locate the classification in the tariff shift rules to see if the required change of classifications occurred when the product was produced or manufactured. If the tariff shift has occurred and any other listed requirement is met, then the country of origin is changed by the processing.

For example, the tariff classification for 5204 through 5207 (cotton yarns) states that the tariff shift must be from any other heading provided that the change or shift results from a spinning process. This defines the country of origin for spun yarns (see above). The tariff shifts for 5208 through 5212 require a shift from classifications for yarns, fibers or filaments that results from a fabric making process, or a change from greige fabric to finished fabric that is both dyed and printed when accompanied by two or more specified finishing operations. Similarly, shifts for 6302 require that the country of origin of certain linens must be from the fabric forming process, i.e., the country in which the fabric was woven and not the country in which the fabric for the linens were cut and sewn, while certain other linens may originate in the country where the fabric comprising the good was both dyed and printed when accompanied by two or more specified finishing operations.

3. Textile or apparel products for which the major parts are knit-to-shape.
4. Textile or apparel products wholly assembled in one country except for the 16 specified exceptions.

When the product is manufactured in two or more countries and the country of origin cannot be determined by the four rules above, the country of origin is:

5. The country in which the most important assembly or manufacturing process occurs, and, if that cannot be determined,
6. The last country in which an important assembly or manufacturing process occurs.

REMEMBER: Cutting will almost never confer country of origin. For garments, the above rules are based on assembly operations, not on cutting.

Special Exceptions & Considerations

Israel Free Trade Agreement

Israel is an exception to the country of origin rules. The country of origin for textile and apparel products from Israel will continue to be determined by the rules in §12.130, CR (19 CFR §12.130), e.g., the origin of most garments is the country in which the components are cut to shape, although for tailored or complex garments, the origin is the country in which the garments are wholly assembled. In T.D. 96-58, published in the Federal Register on July 31, 1996, Customs explained how to determine the origin of textile and apparel products that are processed in Israel and another country. If Israel is determined not to be the country of origin under §12.130, CR (19 CFR §12.130), then the rules in §102.21 are applied to determine the origin. As Israel cannot be found to be the country of origin under §102.21, CR, the processing in Israel will be disregarded when applying the steps in §102.21.

Insular Possessions

The §102.21 country of origin rules apply to the insular possessions of the United States. The rules will be used to determine whether the goods qualify as a product of the insular possession under General Note 3(a)(iv) of the Harmonized Tariff Schedules of the United States.

However, Customs will continue to follow past rulings to determine whether foreign fabric has been subjected to a “double substantial transformation” for purposes of the 50 percent foreign material content restriction under General Note 3(a)(iv). Cutting will continue to be used to maintain current status in achieving a double substantial transformation. The first portion of the substantial transformation test may occur when fabric is cut into components, while the second may occur when the components are assembled into wearing apparel. In determining whether the apparel meets the 50 percent foreign value limitation, components which undergo a double substantial transformation are (and will continue to be) treated as materials produced in the insular possession rather than as foreign materials.

Components Cut in the U. S. from Foreign Fabric and Assembled Abroad

The value of components cut to shape (but not to length, width or both) in the U.S. from foreign fabric and exported for assembly abroad into an article that is then returned is not included in the dutiable value of the finished article imported into the U.S. (See §10.25, CR).

- a. For textile and apparel products that do not have category numbers (e.g. umbrellas, parachutes), as well as all footwear and parts of footwear, assembled in a Caribbean Basin Initiative (CBI) country from components that were cut to shape (but not including pieces merely cut to length and/or width) in the U.S. from foreign fabric, the assembled textile articles are not subject to duty. (See, §10.26, CR).

This provision is necessary in the statute because under the country of origin rules cutting does not confer country of origin, and therefore components cut in the U.S. of foreign fabric are not considered to be U.S. products. The definition of textile and apparel products includes articles that were not considered as textile articles by the United States prior to implementation of the new World Trade Organization definitions. This provision continues the current duty free treatment under U.S. Note 2(b), Subchapter II, Chapter 98 of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States.

- b. The value of the components cut in the U.S. from foreign fabric, up to the 15 percent cap for U.S. origin materials, may be applied toward determining the minimum 35 percent requirement to qualify for the benefits of CBI.

NAFTA Override

Any NAFTA override rules currently in existence will continue to be applied if a NAFTA preference is claimed.

FOR EXAMPLE: China is the country of origin of comforter shells and also the country of origin of down used to fill the shells. Both of these components are sent to Canada where the down is inserted into the shells. The country of origin of the finished comforter under the §334 rules of origin is China. However, NAFTA provides for an override rule that applies if a claim is made. Because the processing in Canada (a NAFTA country) satisfies the NAFTA duty preference rule, if a claim is made for duty preference at the time of entry (or within one year), the country of origin is Canada. The NAFTA preference rule continues to override the §334 country of origin rules in determining the country of origin for NAFTA products.

U.S. Goods Sent Abroad For Processing

For a U.S. produced textile good sent abroad for processing which results in an advancement in value or improvement in condition:

- a. For duty assessment purposes, the good will continue to be considered foreign under Note 2(a), Subchapter II, Chapter 98, HTS.
- b. For quota purposes, the good will continue to be considered foreign under §12.130(c), CR.
- c. For the purposes of the marking statute, 19 U.S.C. 1304, the origin of a textile or apparel good is determined by the rules under §102.21. Section 12.130 (c) no longer applies for marking purposes. See T.D. 00-41, 65 FR 42634 (July 11, 2000). Therefore, a U.S. good which is processed abroad (advanced in value or improved in condition) must be marked with the country of origin determined pursuant to §102.21.

FOR EXAMPLE: Fabric woven in the United States is shipped to China where it is cut and sewn into tents. According to §102.21, the origin of the tents is the country where the fabric comprising the good was formed by a fabric-making process. Thus, the country of origin is the United States and the tents will not be required to be marked for purposes of the marking statute. However, the country of origin for duty assessment and quota purposes will be China. The goods are also still subject to the labeling rules of the Federal Trade Commission. If the U.S. fabric was cut to shape (as opposed to merely length and width) in the United States and assembled into tents in China, the tents could receive a partial duty exemption under subheading 9802.00.80, HTSUS.

Sets

If one or more components in a set are textile articles and there is no single country of origin for these components, the country of origin for each textile component of the set is determined separately. A composite good will continue to be considered as one combined good.

Summary Of Rules

1. Cutting does not determine the country of origin. The §334 rules are based on processing or assembly operations.
2. Customs previous interpretation of substantial transformation for origin purposes has been replaced with statutory rules based on processing.

3. A subjective determination under the provisions of §12.130, CR is largely replaced by objective processing operations expressed in terms of tariff shifts.
4. Generally fabrics originate in the country where the fabric is formed, however, certain fabrics and articles made from fabric originate in the country in which they are dyed and printed when accompanied by two or more specified finishing operations as set forth in Section 405.
5. Country of origin for textile and apparel products processed, assembled or manufactured in two or more countries is determined by where the most important processing occurs, and, if that cannot be ascertained, the last country in which an important assembly or manufacturing process occurs.

Textile Declaration And Quota Charge Statement

The single or multiple country of origin declaration as shown in §12.130(f), CR is required under §334 rules of origin.

The quota charge statement is required under §334 rules of origin.

Failure To Follow The Origin Rules

Because the §334 rules govern the origin of goods for purposes of quantitative restrictions (quota), goods subject to quota which arrive without correct visas are inadmissible and may be detained (until correct visas are obtained), denied entry, or in certain cases seized. Material false statements or omissions regarding origin may also lead to civil penalties or criminal prosecution. Failure to have the goods properly marked with the correct country of origin may also lead to the assessment of marking duties, or in certain cases, penalties, or in cases of repeated or intentional violations, seizure and forfeiture. In addition, goods which were released may be subject to orders to redeliver the goods to Customs. Failure to comply with such orders may lead to the assessment of liquidated damages.

Summary Of Issued Rulings

The Customs Service has developed a separate informed compliance document listing origin rulings which have been issued. The rulings are listed in a chart by category. This informed compliance document is separately available on the Customs Internet web site. Copies of the actual rulings also may be viewed on the Customs Internet web site which is described below.

Additional Information The Internet

The U. S. Customs Service's home page on the Internet's World Wide Web, provides the trade community with current, relevant information regarding Customs operations and items of special interest. The site posts information -- which includes proposed regulations, news releases, Customs publications and notices, etc. -- that can be searched, read on-line, printed or downloaded to your person computer. The web site was established as a trade-friendly mechanism to assist the importing and exporting community. The web site links to the Customs Electronic Bulletin Board (CEBB), an older electronic system on which Customs notices and drafts were posted. Since December, 1999 the CEBB has been only accessible through the web site. The web site also links to the home pages of many other agencies whose importing or exporting regulations Customs helps to enforce. Customs web site also contains a wealth of information of interest to a broader public than the trade community -- to international travelers, for example.

The Customs Service's web address is <http://www.customs.gov>.

Customs Regulations

The current edition of Customs Regulations of the United States is a loose-leaf, subscription publication available from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, DC 20402; telephone 202-512-1800. A bound, 2000 edition of Title 19, Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), which incorporates all changes to the Customs Regulations from April 1999 through March 2000, is also available for sale from the same address. All proposed and final regulations are published in the Federal Register, which is published daily by the Office of the Federal Register, National Archives and Records Administration, and distributed by the Superintendent of Documents. Information about on-line access to the Federal Register may be obtained by calling (202) 512-1530 between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. Eastern time. These notices are also published in the weekly Customs Bulletin, described below.

The Code of Federal Regulations and the Federal Register also are available online at: <http://www.access.gpo.gov/nara/cfr/index.html>

Customs Bulletin

The Customs Bulletin and Decisions ("Customs Bulletin") is a weekly publication that contains decisions, rulings, regulatory proposals, notices and other information of interest to the trade community. It also contains decisions issued by the U.S. Court of International Trade, as well as Customs-related decisions of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. Each year, the Government Printing Office publishes bound volumes of the Customs Bulletin. Subscriptions may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents at the address and phone number listed above.

Importing Into the United States

This publication provides an overview of the importing process and contains general information about import requirements. The 1998 edition of Importing Into the United States contains much new and revised material brought about pursuant to the Customs Modernization Act ("Mod Act"). The Mod Act has fundamentally altered the relationship between importers and the Customs Service by shifting to the importer the legal responsibility for declaring the value, classification, and rate of duty applicable to entered merchandise.

The 1998 edition contains a new section entitled "Informed Compliance." A key component of informed compliance is the shared responsibility between Customs and the import community, wherein Customs communicates its requirements to the importer, and the importer, in turn, uses reasonable care to assure that Customs is provided accurate and timely data pertaining to his or her importations.

Single copies may be obtained from local Customs offices or from the Office of Public Affairs, U.S. Customs Service, 1300 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20229. An on-line version is available at the Customs web site. Importing Into the United States is also available for sale, in single copies or bulk orders, from the Superintendent of Documents by calling (202) 512-1800, or by mail from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, P.O. Box 371954, Pittsburgh, PA 15250-7054.

Video Tapes

The Customs Service has prepared a series of video tapes in VHS format for the trade community and other members of the public. As of the date of this publication, four tapes are available and are described below.

If you would like more information on any of the tapes described below, or if you would like to order them, please send a written request to: U.S. Customs Service, Office of Regulations and Rulings, Suite 3.4A, 1300 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20229, Attn: Operational Oversight Division. Orders must be accompanied by a check or money order drawn on a U.S. financial institution and made payable to U.S. Customs Service. Prices include postage.

- Rules of Origin for Textiles and Apparel Products is a two-hour tape aimed at increasing understanding of the new rules, which became effective July 1, 1996. Copies of this tape are available from many trade organizations, customs brokers, consultants and law firms, or it can be ordered from the U.S. Customs Service for $20.00. Please note that the tape does not discuss any changes made by the Trade and Development Act of 2000 (Pub. L. 106-200, May 18, 2000)

- Customs Compliance: Why You Should Care is a 30-minute tape divided into two parts. Part I, almost 18 minutes in length, is designed to provide senior executives and others in the importing or exporting business with an overview of the significant features of the Customs Modernization Act and the reasons to adopt new strategies in order to minimize legal exposure under the Act.

Part II is intended primarily for import/export compliance officers, legal departments and company officers. About 12 minutes long, Part II explains why Customs and the trade can benefit from sharing responsibilities under Customs laws. It also provides viewers with legal detail on record keeping, potential penalties for noncompliance, and on the Customs prior-disclosure program. The cost is $15.00.

- Account Management: Team Building for World Trade, a 13-½-minute tape on account management, discusses what account management is and why there is a need for it. Account Management is a new approach to working with the trade in which a company is treated as an account, rather than being dealt with on a transaction by transaction basis. The tape includes discussions with Customs account managers and representatives of importers (“accounts”) relating to the benefits of account management from the perspectives of the both the Customs Service and the trade community. The cost is $15.00.
- General-Order Warehousing: Rules for Handling Unclaimed Merchandise, 90 minutes long, was prepared jointly by the Customs Service and the trade community on the subject of general-order merchandise (unclaimed goods). The tape includes question and answer discussions that define procedures required to implement the new general-order laws and regulations and why there is a need to have effective procedures for handling unclaimed goods. The cost is $15.00.

Informed Compliance Publications

The U. S. Customs Service has prepared a number of Informed Compliance publications in the “What Every Member of the Trade Community Should Know About:...” series. As of the date of this publication, the subjects listed below were available.

- <sup>4</sup> 1. Customs Value (’15/96, <sup>4</sup>Revised 12/99)
- 2. Raw Cotton: Tariff Classification and Import Quotas (’15/96, Revised 8/2000)
- 3. NAFTA for Textiles & Textile Articles (’15/96, Revised 8/2000)
- <sup>5</sup> 4. Buying & Selling Commissions (’16/96, Revised 1/2000)
- 5. Fibers & Yarns - Construction and Classification under the HTSUS (’18/96, Revised 9/2000)
- 6. Textile & Apparel Rules of Origin (’10/96, <sup>3</sup>Revised 11/98, 12/2000)
- <sup>1</sup> 7. Mushrooms (10/96)

- <sup>1</sup> 8. Marble (11/96)
- <sup>1</sup> 9. Peanuts (11/96)

Value Publications

Customs Valuation under the Trade Agreements Act of 1979 is a 96-page book containing a detailed narrative description of the customs valuation system, the customs valuation title of the Trade Agreements Act (§402 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by the Trade Agreements Act of 1979 (19 U.S.C. §1401a)), the Statement of Administrative Action which was sent to the U.S. Congress in conjunction with the TAA, regulations (19 CFR §§152.000-152.108) implementing the valuation system (a few sections of the regulations have been amended subsequent to the publication of the book) and questions and answers concerning the valuation system. A copy may be obtained from the U.S. Customs Service, Office of Regulations and Rulings, Value Branch, 1300 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20229.

Customs Valuation Encyclopedia (with updates) is comprised of relevant statutory provisions, Customs Regulations implementing the statute, portions of the Customs Valuation Code, judicial precedent, and administrative rulings involving application of valuation law. A copy may be purchased for a nominal charge from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, P.O. Box 371954, Pittsburgh, PA 15250-7054. This publication is also available on the Customs Service Internet web site.

The information provided in this publication is for general information purposes only. Recognizing that many complicated factors may be involved in customs issues, an importer may wish to obtain a ruling under Customs Regulations, 19 CFR Part 177, or obtain advice from an expert (such as a licensed customs broker, attorney or consultant) who specializes in Customs matters. Reliance solely on the general information in this pamphlet may not be considered reasonable care.

Additional information may be also be obtained from Customs ports of entry. Please consult your telephone directory for a Customs office near you. The listing will be found under U.S. Government, Treasury Department.

“Your Comments are Important”

The Small Business and Regulatory Enforcement Ombudsman and 10 regional Fairness Boards were established to receive comments from small businesses about federal agency enforcement activities and rate each agency’s responsiveness to small business. If you wish to comment on the enforcement actions of U.S. Customs, call 1-888-REG-FAIR (1-888-734-3247).

16a. Date (DD/MM/YY)	16b. Blanket Period From:      To:	17. Telephone Number Facsimile Number

Preparation of Certificate. The following rules will apply for purposes of completing the Certificate of Origin:

- (1) Blocks 1 through 5 pertain only to the final article exported to the United States for which preferential treatment may be claimed;
- (2) Block 1 should state the legal name and address (including country) of the exporter;
- (3) Block 2 should state the legal name and address (including country) of the producer. If there is more than one producer, attach a list stating the legal name and address (including country) of all additional producers. If this information is confidential, it is acceptable to state "available to Customs upon request" in block 2. If the producer and the exporter are the same, state "same" in block 2;
- (4) Block 3 should state the legal name and address (including country) of the importer;
- (5) Block 4 should provide a full description of each article. The description should be sufficient to relate it to the invoice description and to the description of the article in the international Harmonized System. Include the invoice number as shown on the commercial invoice or, if the invoice number is not known, include another unique reference number such as the shipping order number;
- (6) In block 5, insert the letter that designates the preference group which applies to the article according to the description contained in the CFR provision cited on the Certificate for that group;
- (7) Blocks 6 through 10 must be completed only when the block in question calls for information that is relevant to the preference group identified in block 5;
- (8) Block 6 should state the legal name and address (including country) of the fabric producer;
- (9) Block 7 should state the legal name and address (including country) of the yarn producer;
- (10) Block 8 should state the legal name and address (including country) of the thread producer;
- (11) Block 9 should state the name of the folklore article or should state that the article is handloomed or handmade;
- (12) Block 10, which should be completed only when preference group "H" is inserted in block 5, should state the name of the fabric or yarn that is not formed in the United States or a beneficiary country or that is not available in commercial quantities in the United States;
- (13) Block 16a should reflect the date on which the Certificate was completed and signed;
- (14) Block 16b should be completed if the Certificate is intended to cover multiple shipments of identical articles as described in block 4 that are imported into the United States during a specified period of up to one year (see § 10.216(b)(4)(ii)). The "from" date is the date on which the Certificate became applicable to the article covered by the blanket Certificate (this date may be prior to the date reflected in block 16a). The "to" date is the date on which the blanket period expires; and
- (15) The Certificate may be printed and reproduced locally. If more space is needed to complete the Certificate, attach a continuation sheet.
